A message from Mrs Ball...

Well, it is very nearly the end of another busy term, the longer daylight hours are just around the corner and hopefully we will start to see the back of all of this rain!

This time last week some of our cross-country runners and their parents took on the challenge of the Landrake run. It certainly made us smile when we saw the before and after pictures, it looked like you all had a great time.

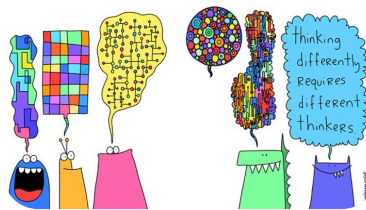

Next week we will be celebrating Easter, we will be welcoming Revd Olly to school on Wednesday for our Easter service and on Thursday we will be judging our Easter Egg decorating competition and look forward to the fun and excitement of an Easter Egg hunt, with eggs kindly donated by the PTA.

Don't forget to bring your entry in for our 'EGGSCITING' egg decorating competition!

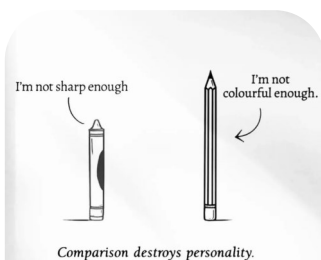

Neurodiversity Celebration Week

This week has been an opportunity to share information with all pupils about the different ways in which all of our brains work. We have had daily assemblies finding out about ASD, Dyscalculia, AD(H)D and Dyslexia.

The message that we would like children at Landulph to hear and remember is that we are all different and we want to celebrate those differences as often as possible. We do not all learn in the same way, we do not all think in the same way and we need different thinkers to continue building a diverse world. Without neurodiversity we would not have had some of the most significant inventions that we rely upon everyday. If your child has identified with any of the elements that have been discussed this week, they have been asked to speak to their class teacher to support them in finding strategies to work with their super-brains in order to access learning at school.

Class 1

Class 1 have continued their learning on their topic "What makes superheroes super" this week. We have been practising a new poem, "If I was a superhero", by Sally Gray. We would love to hear if the children have been able to recite it at home. Carrying on the theme of people who help us, we had an exciting visitor into class on Thursday - a police officer! The children learnt all about a police officer's duties, explored a police car, had their fingerprints taken and even got to talk to the control centre. Thank you to our visitor for providing the children with such a wonderful experience.

Class 2

Class 2 started a poetry unit this week. We delved into the world of free verse which has been very liberating! Giving the children the freedom to write without specific subject content resulted in an eclectic, fascinating collection of poems. We have been looking at inventions during The Bronze Age and how they changed life at the time and the impact they have had on our lives today. This week, we created posters 'advertising' Bronze age weapons and tools, their main selling point being the durability and strength. In maths, our fractions unit has continued. All of the pizzas being cut into fractions and shared for home learning are making the staff very hungry each time they are sent in! Thank you for the effort that has gone into supporting children apply their knowledge at home this week. On Thursday, during Wild Tribe, the children produced some fantastic representations of minibeasts following our learning about different types of animals and how to classify them.

Class 3

Class 3 have been diving into poetry this week. We have explored similes and metaphors in the poems 'Don't Be Scared' by Carol Ann Duffy and 'I Wandered Lonely as a Cloud' by William Wordsworth and alliteration and onomatopoeia in the poems 'Betty's Room' by Denise Rogers and 'Let's Give a Cheer for Onomatopoeia' by John Foster. The children have then been creating their own descriptions using figurative language. In maths we have calculated volumes of 3d shapes and a range of angles. We have been considering the changing roles for women during the Second World War and writing diaries based on the accounts we learned of. In science the Year 6s have been learning about how Darwin theorised evolution from his observations of Galapagos finches and the Year 5s have been interrogating data on the growth rates of children.

Reminders....

Keep up those good habits...

Learning spellings, number facts and times tables is so important.

Don't forget your child has a log in to TT Rockstars (Y2-Y6), Numbots (Y1) and Spelling Shed (Y2-6).

These are great programmes that we invest in as a school to support learning at home. If your child has forgotten their log in details then please email Cathy.
