13th February 2026

A message from Mrs Ball...

As the first half of the Spring term draws to a close, it is energising to see the lighter mornings and evenings creeping in, the spring bulbs are starting to blossom, but unfortunately the rain continues to be relentless!

What a great term we have had – we have seen some children making great progress with their writing, a group of children have worked really hard to build their reading fluency, Class 2 have to be mentioned for their incredible handwriting and all of the children are trying really hard to secure their KIRFS (Key Instant Recall Facts.) We have also been lucky enough to enrich our curriculum through a visit to Saltash Community College to watch a student performance of The Little Mermaid, Class 3 are enjoying a Music Tech project, a brass instrument taster session and we had fun celebrating Number Day. I must warn you now...the calendar is jam packed for March!

World Book Day - Friday 6th March 2026

Introducing this year's World Book Day Challenge! The 'Book in a jar' challenge! Grab a jar of any shape or size and represent a book of your choice by whatever means possible! It could be a character, setting or set of clues describing a story – the aim is to be able to identify the book from what is in the jar! There will be a competition with prizes so let your creative juices flow!

World Book Day Prop: As well as our 'Book in a Jar', as an alternative to a dress up day we are asking children to come in to school on Friday 6th March in their school uniform with a book prop to represent a book or character. This could be a wand, walking stick, bag, basket, anything that could represent a book. Think of a character or story and a prop to represent them, and we'll see if we can work out your book!

We are looking forward to welcoming our Grandparents for lunch on Friday 27th February, the week we come back after the half-term holiday. Please arrive at school at 11.40am, where you will join your grandchild/ren for lunch before they take you to visit their classroom and share their work with you. We cannot wait to see you 😊

INSET Day

Wishing you all a fun-filled half-term break and we will see you back in school on Tuesday 24th February.

Class 1

Class 1 have been super editors this week, after learning lots of facts about three famous kings and queens; Henry VIII, Queen Victoria and Queen Elizabeth II, they then chose one to write up and edit, the pink pens are so exciting to use and it means we can see on reflection where we have made our writing better. The Foundation children have been busy learning all about length and height in maths, it's tricky to remember long and short for length and tall and short for height but we're getting lots of practice measuring items from the classroom. We also tested and evaluated our thrones for King Charles III, we had to see if the princess could sit comfortably. We had lots of fun seeing if the thrones would hold her, if it wasn't successful we then knew what we could do differently next time!

Class 2

Phew! We've been extra busy this week, doing a lot of showing what we have learned and what we know. The children have worked hard on their maths, reading and writing assessments and we are so pleased with their progress. In our reading lessons we have come to the end of The Hodgehog and all of the children have enjoyed reading about Max and his mission to make a safe hedgehog crossing! If you do get the opportunity to buy or borrow this book, it would be great practice for the children to re-read it to build their reading fluency with a book that they already know. We completed our geography learning about Europe with the children now knowing the 6 types of biomes in the world – please ask them! The children had a fun PE lesson with Mr S on Monday using their climbing and strength on our hall climbing apparatus – see photos! We are now online safety experts, having written our leaflets and completed our PSHE digital wellbeing unit too so we are looking forward to some drier weather hopefully next term for our new unit all about plants and things that grow!

Class 3

This week included lots of progress assessments, but a surprising amount of the class really enjoy being tested, so they were quite happy! In addition, we made plenty of time for creativity across the curriculum. In English, the children wrote non-chronological reports about animals from the Americas, applying the features we have been practising. Linked to this, we explored and described the habitats of North and South American animals in geography, making careful links between climate and environment.

The children constructed their wooden cam toys in DT – their woodworking skills are developing well! In computing, they designed an appealing zoo layout while carefully considering how to stay within a given budget and in science, pupils produced reports comparing animals with similar physical characteristics and were surprised to discover just how distantly related some of them actually are.

It has been a full and productive week — and we are all more than ready for a well-earned rest!
